Built on clear terms.

These terms explain how the Kraftt Partner Program operates. Kraftt Digital is operated by Ketan Goyal under the trade name Kraftt Digital ("Kraftt"). A person whose referral is accepted under the program is referred to as the "Partner".

1. Independent relationship

The program creates a non-exclusive referral relationship only. It does not create employment, agency, franchise, joint venture or a legal partnership between Kraftt and the Partner.

2. Referral eligibility

A referral must be shared with Kraftt before Kraftt begins discussions with that business. Kraftt will confirm whether the referral is eligible. Existing leads and previously contacted businesses are not eligible.

3. Duplicate referrals

If the same business is introduced by more than one person, attribution belongs to the first verified introduction recorded and accepted by Kraftt.

4. Partner responsibilities

The Partner will make genuine introductions and share accurate information. The Partner may not finalize pricing, promise results, commit timelines, collect client payments or represent themselves as an employee or authorized agent of Kraftt.

5. Kraftt responsibilities

Kraftt will independently handle discovery, recommendations, proposal, agreement, delivery, client communication, invoicing and payment collection. Kraftt may accept or decline a referral at its discretion.

6. Commission basis

The Partner earns 15% of the final collected professional fee stated in the approved proposal, after discounts. Applicable taxes and third-party or pass-through expenses are excluded.

7. Payment timing

Commission becomes payable within seven working days after the referred project is delivered and the complete client payment is received as cleared funds in Kraftt's bank account. Applicable statutory deductions and documentation requirements may apply.

8. Cancelled, refunded or unpaid work

No commission is payable on cancelled, refunded or uncollected amounts. Any later refund relating to an already-paid commission may be adjusted against a future payout after written explanation.

9. Repeat work and retainers

Commission applies only to the eligible project recorded in the accepted referral. Repeat work, extensions and future retainers are not automatically commissionable unless Kraftt confirms otherwise in writing.

10. Confidentiality and ownership

The Partner shall not disclose, forward, publish, reproduce, copy, distribute or otherwise expose any Kraftt document, proposal, pricing, strategy, process, template, credential, client information, internal communication, knowledge or file without prior written permission. All such material remains Kraftt's property and this obligation survives termination.

11. Client information

The Partner will use client and Kraftt information only for the relevant referral and will not retain, reuse or share it for another purpose without permission.

12. Ending participation

Either side may end participation through written communication. Eligible referrals accepted before termination remain subject to these terms if the project is completed and fully paid. Confidentiality obligations continue.

To participate, complete the separate Kraftt Partner Agreement.
